2023 Grant Program Guidelines

GENERAL

The Center of Colorado Water Conservancy District (CCWCD) is a Title 37 special district primarily funded by a tax mill levy on Park County property taxes. CCWCD's Board of Directors retains the right, in its sole discretion, to approve, reduce or deny any grant request.

Projects must meet the mission of CCWCD to preserve, protect and defend the waters of Park County and contained within the boundaries of the district. Examples of projects include those that enhance water supply or water quality, improve stream conditions and habitat, or provide education on water quality and resources.

One-time funding is open to any organization or property owner that meets the criteria and is subject to review and approval of the CCWCD Board of Directors. This is an open competitive award for the calendar year 2023 and a minimum 1:1 ratio of matching funds is expected. Amounts available are subject to Board appropriation annually.

Application window: open – July 15, 2023; extended to close – September 15, 2023

The Application Form, reporting, budget, and funds request templates can be found on our website: <https://centerofcoloradowater.com/grant-opportunity/>. An approved application and subsequent funding will require:
